DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the vehicle must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2837

3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(a) Claim 1 recites the limitation "each coil" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

(b) Claim 1 recites the limitation "the temperatures detected". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

(c) Claim 9 recites the limitation "each coil" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

(d) Claim 1: It is unclear if the controller selects a temperature based on a detected phase angle or if the controller selects a temperature detected by the temperature sensor, the sensed temperature being based on the phase angle.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsunaga et al (US 6114828).

Claims 1,9: Matsunaga et al teach a temperature sensor (6) that detects a temperature of junctions (T1-T6) supplying currents to phases (U, V, W) of a motor (5; col. 3:43-59, col. 7:25-30); a controller (12) that controls a torque (col. 7:8-15), detects a stalled state (col. 4:8-21), detects a phase angle the motor (10; col. 3:60-67) and selects a temperature detected by the temperature sensor based on the detected current (col. 4:32-37); wherein the torque of the motor is reduced when the stalled state is detected (col. 4:21-32) and the temperature exceeds a threshold (col. 6:49-55).

Claims 2,5,10,13: the controller selects a phase when a temperature is within a range where a maximum current flows in the phase (col. 4:4:62-5:5; 5:59-6:5).

Claims 3,4,11,12: the phase angle is based on the rotational angle of the motor (col. 3:60-63).

Claims 6, 7,14,15: the controller reduces the torque until the temperature exceeds the limit (col. 4:62-5:5).

Claim 8,16: when the stall occurs outside a predetermined range of a phase, a phase having the maximum temperature is selected (col. 4:9-36).

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. They disclose motor controllers that reduce the torque based on temperature.
